Welcome to ANTIQUES ROADSHOW!

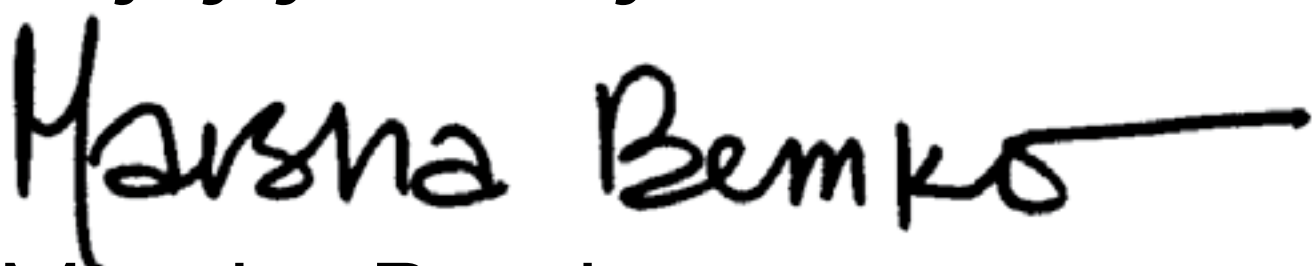

Thank you for joining us in Raleigh as we search for America's hidden treasures! We're excited to see what surprises your items will reveal, and delighted you are part of our 2023 tour.

You might wonder if the items you brought today have a hidden history, or if your find is worth a fortune. Our experts are ready to help solve that mystery! Even after hours of non-stop action, when appraising a unique item, we often hear appraisers say, "thank you for making my day!" And we hope ROADSHOW will make your day as well.

In gratitude, our Raleigh visit wouldn't be possible without the support of our sponsors Ancestry, American Cruise Lines and Consumer Cellular, and viewers like you.

Thank you for watching ANTIQUES ROADSHOW at home each week—today you're the stars of the show!

Enjoy your day,

Greetings from PBS North Carolina

What an honor it is to welcome you to the Raleigh edition of ANTIQUES ROADSHOW.

PBS North Carolina is so excited to be with you on the beautiful grounds of the North Carolina Museum of Art. What better place to show off your treasures than this world-class museum. We look forward to meeting you and hearing the priceless stories about the objects you've brought with you today.

As a statewide network, we're proud to serve the people of North Carolina. They're the heart of every story we share, every resource we develop and every endeavor we undertake.

Through shows like NC Weekend and My Home, NC, we celebrate our state's diverse people and rich culture. Our public affairs series State Lines, Black Issues Forum and ncIMPACT tackle the most pressing issues affecting our community today.

New initiatives like our Explore NC app for kids and our Impact Summit for educators spark a love for lifelong learning. And our close partnerships with state agencies and government officials allow us to share emergency briefings and urgent resources that help families and first-responders stay safe and secure.

The best part of serving the people of North Carolina is the opportunity to meet and hear from you. Today, we hope you enjoy connecting with us and one another over newly discovered stories and maybe a surprise appraisal or two.

Thank you for being with us and making ANTIQUES ROADSHOW an unforgettable experience for all.

IMPORTANT SAFETY TIPS

- Entry to this event is at your own risk and at the discretion of ANTIQUES ROADSHOW. All persons and their possessions are subject to search. This event is monitored and recorded by closed-circuit TV.
- If you do not feel well or if you have any symptoms of COVID-19 including: cough; shortness of breath or difficulty breathing; fatigue or muscle or body aches; sore throat; headache; loss of taste or sense of smell; nausea or vomiting; diarrhea; chills or a temperature of 100.4°F or higher, do not enter the Event.
- A distance of at least 3 feet between you and others should be maintained as much as possible at all times.
- If you have to sneeze or cough, please be courteous of other guests, appraisers, staff and crew.
- Failure to follow instructions by ANTIQUES ROADSHOW staff or security or on signs, may result in removal from the event.
- You are free to wear a mask anywhere at the event.
- You may be required to wear a mask indoors as directed.
- Please wash hands or use hand sanitizer on a regular basis.
- ROADSHOW will appraise your antique firearm only if our appraiser and local law enforcement are satisfied that it would be safe to do so. Admission to the event with any firearm is solely at the discretion of local law enforcement and/or ANTIQUES ROADSHOW.
- All ANTIQUES ROADSHOW appraisals are conducted at appraisal tables. No other appraisals are conducted in line or outside the venue. If anyone offers to appraise your items outside of the appraisal tables, please be aware that these people are not affiliated with ANTIQUES ROADSHOW.
- We do not permit any solicitation, buying, or selling at ANTIQUES ROADSHOW. If anyone offers to buy your items, please alert a staff member or security officer. Anyone offering to buy or sell items may be ejected from the event.
- If you are having a medical emergency, or see someone in need of help, please don't hesitate to alert a volunteer, staff member, or security officer.
- In your own interest, we advise you not to disclose your name, address, or other personally identifiable information to anyone other than the staff and crew of ANTIQUES ROADSHOW.
- Members of the press will be at the event, escorted by an ANTIQUES ROADSHOW press escort. If asked, you are free to provide an interview, but are under no obligation to do so. If interviewed and asked for your name, please only identify yourself by first name to press.

HOW THE EVENT WORKS

1. It's Show Time!

Once you've presented your ticket to the volunteers, your ROADSHOW adventure begins!

2. Enjoy Your Surroundings While You Wait

At Triage, our generalists will stamp your paper event guide with the table categories appropriate for your items and where you can enjoy meeting fellow guests and seeing their treasures.

3. Show Us Your Items

- When you get to the front of the Triage line, please unwrap your items.
- A generalist appraiser will give you a category stamp for each of your items. Each category stamp will allow you to receive one appraisal.
- Show your category stamp to a volunteer waiting in a navy-blue ROADSHOW shirt. The volunteer will escort you to your first appraisal line.
- Please note, appraisal tables are located outside throughout the museum grounds.
- Please be prepared for grass, gravel and concrete surfaces. (All areas within the ANTIQUES ROADSHOW event are wheelchair accessible; please ask a volunteer if you need assistance.)

4. Ready for Your Close-Up?

- A volunteer will check your category stamp and direct you to the appraisal table
- You will have to get in line again for your second appraisal. Volunteers will be happy to direct you to your next location.
- You will find space to write down what you learned from your appraiser on the back of your printed guide.

Once you've exited the Triage area, please adhere to our Cell Phone rules while on set: phone use is prohibited around taping areas and your cell phone must be turned to silent mode when asked or in areas indicated by an ANTIQUES ROADSHOW sign.

5. Visit the Feedback Booth

Once you've received your appraisals, stop by the Feedback Booth for a chance to record some thoughts about your ROADSHOW experience for possible inclusion in a future episode.

6. After Your Appraisals...

- Stop by the PBS North Carolina tent! Explore programming, upcoming events, member benefits, and much more.
- Collect appraisers' contact information at the appraiser business card tent.
- Food and refreshments will not be available for purchase at the event.

7. Join Us on TV and Online

Your experience with ANTIQUES ROADSHOW doesn't have to end at this event.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How many items can I have appraised today?

Each ticket holder may have two items appraised. Vehicles, stamps, paper currency, coins, bicycles, fossils, tools, glass fire extinguishers and explosives or hazardous materials cannot be appraised.

What should I do if I need help carrying my items?

Unfortunately, staff and volunteers are not permitted to carry or move items.

How many appraisers are at the venue? Do they have certain specialties?

There are about 65 appraisers who cover more than 23 categories.

Can I take pictures or use a video camera at ANTIQUES ROADSHOW?

Video or still photography are allowed only in designated areas. You may use your camera or smartphone while in the main waiting area. However, you cannot take photographs or record video at any designated ANTIQUES ROADSHOW set or recording area. You may not record audio or video of your appraisal.

Why do I have to silence my cell phone while inside the set?

While ANTIQUES ROADSHOW is filming, cell phones ringing and phone conversations affects the quality of our audio, so please silence them when in all designated ANTIQUES ROADSHOW set or recording areas.

Once I'm inside the event can I leave and come back?

Once your ticket has been scanned and you've received your two appraisals, you may not re-enter the ANTIQUES ROADSHOW event.

How can I contact an appraiser?

Appraisers may not solicit business at the event, but they may inform you that their business card is available for you to pick up at the exit of the event and you may contact them at a later date. Appraisers' contact information is also available here and pbs.org/antiques. WGBH Educational Foundation is not responsible for any business or interaction you have with an ANTIQUES ROADSHOW appraiser prior or subsequent to the event.

Where can I find more information about objects that have already been featured on ANTIQUES ROADSHOW?

ANTIQUES ROADSHOW has uncovered a wealth of amazing finds over its 27 years on PBS. Video, photos, and more information on over 5,000 ROADSHOW segments are available via the "Appraisals" section of our website at pbs.org/antiques.

How is an appraisal selected to be recorded for television?

When an expert hears a unique story or an interesting piece of history, spots a particularly rare or unusual object, or determines an appraisal might otherwise be of value to the audience, he or she pitches the idea to a ROADSHOW producer. The producer determines if the appraisal should be recorded for broadcast. Of the thousands of objects appraised at each event, approximately 150 are recorded, of which about 30 will appear in each episode of ANTIQUES ROADSHOW.
